Flint RiverQuarium Announces First Annual Wings and Wildlife Festival

Come join the Flint RiverQuarium Saturday, September 18, for a celebration of all creatures great and small at the first annual Wings and Wildlife Festival! In addition to a day full of activities and special presentations by bird and wildlife experts at the RiverQuarium, festival-goers also can see a new planetarium show at Thronateeska Heritage Center and participate in guided garden tours and canoe trips on the Flint River. The RiverQuarium is offering a special reduced admission price of $2 off all combo tickets for the day.

“Whether guests choose to build a birdhouse to take home, participate in a guided birding walk, enjoy an up-close reptile and amphibian show or marvel at the birds of prey demonstration, they are sure to leave with a renewed appreciation for the Flint River and its native wildlife,” said Melissa Martin, event organizer and Flint RiverQuarium Education Manager.

Other planned activities, such as interactive children’s stations, performances by professional storytellers and a class for beginning birdwatchers, guarantee fun for the whole family. For detailed information or to pre-register for fee-based events, please see our web site, www.flinriverquarium.com or call 229-639-2650.
