Science After Sunset: “What’s That Smell?”

The Flint RiverQuarium’s bi-monthly education program, Science after Sunset, continues April 5, 2011, at 6:00 p.m. at the RiverQuarium. This month’s theme is “What’s That Smell?: Aquarium Chemistry 101.”

The RiverQuarium’s Chief Curator, Richard Brown, will engage and entertain participants with an interactive presentation on the delicate balance of water chemistry needed to maintain the habitats of the approximately 1,200 animals that comprise the organization’s living collection.

Join others for refreshments and light hors d’oeuvres following Mr. Brown’s program.

Admission for RiverQuarium members is $6 per person; $8 per person for non-members.

Reservations are requested. The RiverQuarium is located at 101 Pine Avenue, in downtown Albany. Please contact Ashley Kenny or Vicki Churchman at (229) 639-2650 to make a reservation or for more information.

The Flint RiverQuarium is southwest Georgia’s premier aquarium, featuring more than 1,000 animals that call the Flint River watershed home. The Flint RiverQuarium is located at 101 Pine Avenue in downtown Albany, Georgia. Regular operating hours are Monday-Friday 9 a.m.-5 p.m.; Saturday 10 a.m.-6 p.m.; Sunday 1 p.m.-5 p.m.
